

Babasola Olajide

*Program Manager Palm Oil (NI-SCOPS),
IDH The Sustainable Trade Initiative,
Solidaridad*

Babasola Olajide coordinates the National Initiative for Sustainable & Climate Smart Oil Palm Smallholders (NI-SCOPS) for IDH The Sustainable Trade Initiative. NI-SCOPS is a joint program being implemented by IDH and Solidaridad. NI-SCOPS focuses on landscapes with significant amount of oil palm smallholders which are difficult to certify and sustainability challenges are most prevalent. NI-SCOPS is currently being implemented in producing countries which include Indonesia, Malaysia, Nigeria and Ghana. NI-SCOPS also targets markets for palm oil such as India and China.

Before joining IDH, Babasola worked as a consultant for Aflatoun International in developing the Smallholder Curriculum Framework for the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil (RSPO). Babasola is a dance addict and holds a master degree in Environmental Science.
